

Stirring Revival Launched by Hamilton at Tabernacle

Enormous Crowds Fill Structure--Sermon on "Sampson" Thrills Hearers--Choir of More Than 300 Trained Voices Led by Welch a Big Feature of Campaign--First Meetings Point to Great Success.

Rev. John S. Hamilton, who Monday night sermon "Sampson" stirred thousands.

That Coshocton is to experience the most stirring revival in its history is forecasted by the enormous crowds in attendance, the enthusiasm manifested and beated with a number of furnaces and stoves.

Evangelist Hamilton's sermon on Sampson was proclaimed by practically all to be the best he has delivered in the city.

The Choir

The magnificent chorus choir led by Mr. Welch is one of the strong features of the campaign. There were more than three hundred voices in the chorus Monday night and the leader is working earnestly to perfect the organization. Following the meeting last night there was a half hour choir rehearsal to which a large part of the audience remained. The feature of the song service was the whistling by a crowd of small boys occupying the front seats. Mr. Welch sang as his solo "He Lifted Me". He possesses a beautiful baritone voice and has the ability to get results from the large choir and congregations.

To Work Hard

Evangelist Hamilton and his helpers are going to work unceasingly during the six weeks' campaign and every effort will be made to secure far reaching results. Rev. Hamilton's helpers are all conscientious men and women with pronounced talent along their particular lines.

The orchestra led by Henry Shepler, proved a valuable addition Sunday night. The members of the orchestra have agreed to furnish music each Sunday night but it is quite probable that there will be music of this kind no less than two nights each week.

Special Service.

The first special service at the tabernacle will be Friday night, which will be known as "Church Night." On this occasion the congregations of the various churches interested will meet at their own church before 7 o'clock and promptly at 7 will start for the tabernacle following this line of march: The Salvation Army, lead by their band will head the procession, at the corner of Fourth and Main streets they will be joined by the Methodist Episcopal, Presbyterian and Baptist in the order named. At Main and Sixth the remaining churches will join the procession in the following order: Church of Christ, Methodist Protestant, Seventh Street Christian and Christian Union. From there they will march four abreast to the tabernacle where special sections will be reserved for each congregation.

Shop Meetings.

The following shop meetings have been arranged for this week. They will be held at the noon hour at a time most convenient for the workmen.

Tuesday—American Art Works, South plant.

Wednesday—Novelty Advertising Company, Glass works.

Thursday—H. D. Beach Company, Paper factory.

Friday—Compton-Price Piano Company, Keagy & Dear's.

These meetings will be in charge of Mr. Snyder and Mr. Taylor assisted by local pastors.

For Women Only.

On next Sunday afternoon there will be a meeting for women only at the tabernacle. Dr. Hamilton will deliver a message that ought to be heard by every woman in Coshocton. The hour has been fixed at 2:30 o'clock and at the same hour there will be a meeting for men at the Grace Methodist Episcopal church.

Interest Being Aroused.

Miss Estella Judd was called to Danbury some time ago by her sister's illness.

Mrs. Shaffer Commences Divorce Suit

On the grounds of gross neglect of duty, extreme cruelty, habitual drunkenness and adultery, Sadie E. Shaffer commenced divorce proceedings in probate court Monday against Emmanuel Shaffer. They were married August 15, 1905, and have one child. The plaintiff alleges that her husband has drunk, gambled and dissipated to the extent that he has grossly neglected his duties. She claims that he has come home intoxicated and beat and choked her in a shameful manner. She asks for a divorce, alimony and custody of their one child. Attorney McDowell represents the plaintiff.

Victim Still Unconscious

At a late hour last night there was no change in the condition of Henry Ehrlich who suffered a stroke of paralysis at his home on Cambridge street Friday morning. Mr. Ehrlich remains unconscious and is gradually growing weaker. It is thought that his death is only a matter of a very short time.

Pet Poodle Is Given Burial

New Bedford, Mass., Jan. 4. Dallas, a thoroughbred Mexican poodle, a pet upon which Mrs. N. Lucile Bowen said she had lavished the attention she would have given a child, was buried with unusual honors for a dog, being interred in the family lot of Dr. Daniel C. Ashley, formerly a prominent city official, beside his body.

Its grave, six feet deep, was dug by a sexton; the coffin was one of expensive wood, with a plate suitably inscribed, and at the head of the grave the mistress of Dallas placed a wreath of purple and white immortelles with the mark "Our Dallas."

Handsome Chair Is Presented

Attorney George D. Klein, whose second term as county prosecutor expired Monday, was presented with a handsome rocking chair by county officials and local attorneys Monday afternoon. The speech of presentation was made by Attorney J. L. McDowell before all of the county officials and a number of attorneys in the office of the county commissioners. Attorney Klein responded with a few remarks of gratitude.

Tramps Set Barn Afire

A barn belonging to John Booth three miles northeast of West Bedford, was destroyed by fire at a late hour Saturday night. The fire is of a mysterious origin and the loss estimated at about $1500 with $700 insurance carried. One horse, one cow, 17 sheep, two calves, seven tons of hay, a buggy and several other articles were destroyed.

The fire was discovered by a neighbor, Harvey Murray, but had gained such a great headway and nothing could be saved. The barn was a log structure and had comparatively little stock in it.

Mr. Booth had gone to the barn about dusk to feed and at that time there were no traces of fire. It is thought that tramps had gone in the barn for the night and accidentally set it on fire.

Rent Case Is Dropped

The case of Chaeos vs Tracewell, involving two months rent for the room occupied by the Luna theatre, was dropped Monday when the amount prayed for, $160, was paid by the defendant to the plaintiff.

Cambridge Votes Dry

Cambridge, O., Jan. 4.—By a majority of 684 this city voted to remain dry at a local law election held today.

A total of 2,778 votes were cast and the result was in the nature of a surprise. Although it was conceded that there would be a dry majority it was not anticipated that it would be so large.

REMOVED HOME

Mrs. C. F. Rader, who was operated in Mt. Carmel hospital last week for the removal of her tonsils has recovered sufficiently to be removed to her home on Walnut street, this evening.

Will not Relinquish Right to Search American Vessels--Turpentine and Rosin will be Paid For.

London, Jan. 4.—There is not the remotest question of relinquishing our right (of search) which would militate against the interests of the allies to the advantage of the enemy; the most that can be expected is that every care will be taken to insure that our right is exercised with the maximum amount of care and the minimum of hardship and friction.

The British press association today thus forecasted the answer of the British government to President Wilson's note protesting against interference with American merchant ships by British men-of-war on the high seas.

"The reply of the foreign office to the American note has not yet been delivered, nor even drawn up," the press association continues. "Walter H. Page, the American ambassador, called at the foreign office on Saturday afternoon but the visit was not prompted by the expectation of a delivery of a reply at that time. The whole matter is receiving earnest, careful consideration. The government's reply will be made in due time in considerable detail. The British government is not being actuated by diplomatic considerations alone, but is being guided largely by naval and military expert opinion."

Paris, Jan. 4.—After several weeks of intense fighting the Germans were driven out of Steinsbach, in Alsace, and the French occupied that city today. Official announcement to this effect was made here tonight.

Statement Issued

Washington, Jan. 4.—The British embassy has issued its first statement on the shipping situation since the publication of the American note. It cleared up one point on which the United States has asked for information by announcing that turpentine and rosin shipped from this country before those articles were declared contraband would be paid for when seized.

The British Statement.

"Turpentine and rosin shipped before the publication of the order placing them on the contraband list will be paid for."

"All copper shipped before the date of the declaration that copper was contraband has been paid for or released.

"No cargoes for Italy have been help up at Gibraltar since December 4. Italian ships carrying cargoes of commodities of which export from Italy is prohibited are not interfered with unless there is clear evidence of fraudulent intentions on the part of shippers."

"Negotiations are proceeding in London with a view to the removal of the embargo on rubber against a pledge not to export, similar to that arranged with Germany regarding aniline dyes. The negotiations have been retarded by the discovery of shipments of rubber from the United States to Europe under disguise."

Thresh Has Discussion on Economy Attorneys Ask Repeal of Land Law

An interesting paper on Domestic Economy was read last evening before the Wranglers by W. M. Thresh. The paper entered into an exhaustive discussion of the economic and un-economic pursuits.

Under the primary industries were classified farming, hunting, fishing, stock raising and mining. The secondary industries were classified as transportation and manufacturing. Waste and fraud in the manufacture of food stuffs and drugs were touched upon as were also fraudulent advertisements.

The discussion took on as wide a range as the paper and was interesting throughout. In two weeks Joseph Love will read a paper on The Folly of War.

Members of the Coshocton County Bar Association freely signed the petition circulated Monday to be sent to representative Criswell, of Coshocton county and state senator Dr. E. E. Vorhies, asking for the repeal or an amendment to the Torrens land act.

The Torrens bill makes it necessary for the registering of all lands and the petitions circulated in Coshocton, which are similar to those signed by members of the state bar association and the state association of county clerks, call for a bill repealing the compulsory feature of it or the entire bill.

W. H. Dickey had a car load of cattle in the Pittsburg market Monday.

Ed. Bright Dies at Nelsonville

Edward Bright, who for the past six years operated a pool room and saloon in this city, died suddenly Monday night in Nelsonville. The message did not state the cause of Mr. Bright's death other than that he died suddenly at about 11:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Bright and the two children Claude and Miss Evelyn will leave this morning on the first train for Nelsonville and accompany the body to their old home in Logan, where burial will be made.

Mr. Bright, aged 37, was born in Logan and spent the greater part of his life there until six years ago when he moved to Coshocton and operated the Park View pool room. Twenty years ago he married Miss Flora Slusher of Logan and to this union two children were born.

After selling his saloon on the corner of Main and Hickory streets, he left last Wednesday for Nelsonville where he has been operating a pool room. He had not been feeling well lately but his condition was not considered at all alarming.

Mr. Bright possessed a friendly disposition and by his frank manner and open heartedness won many friends during his stay in Coshocton who will regret to learn of his sudden death. He was a member of the Elk lodge and well known throughout the entire county. Besides the widow and two children his parents and several brothers and sisters survive.

Campaign Against Ambulance Chasers in New York City

New York, Jan. 2.—A campaign against the "Ambulance Chasers' Trust" by District Attorney Martin, of the Bronx, was begun yesterday by the arrest of Dennis Murray, foreman of linemen for the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, at his home in Bridgeport, Conn., on a warrant charging perjury and his subsequent release of $1500 bail by Judge Louis D. Gibbs, of the Bronx county court.

Lawyer Confesses
A confession obtained from a lawyer, according to the police, and backed by other evidence, revealed that an organization of influential lawyers exists for the purpose of suing large corporations, particularly the New Haven road, for slight or imaginary injuries in accident cases.

The members of the "trust," District Attorney Martin said, generally have settled these cases out of court for large damages, 50 per cent of which invariably went to the lawyers.

Perjury Is Charged
The alleged perjury in Murray's case concerned his testimony at a coroner's inquest a year ago regarding the death of James Fletcher, who had been accidentally electrocuted. Murray, who was Fletcher's foreman, is said to have testified that, although it was his custom to warn the linemen daily against the danger of live wires, he failed to do so on the day of the accident.

The verdict of the coroner's jury declared the New Haven road had been negligent. Suit for damages was started in supreme court by Fletcher's estate, but the case was settled out of court by the payment of $20,000 by the road.

TWO CREMATED IN PARISH FIRE

Priest and His Housekeeper Victims of Incendiaries.

Cleveland, Jan. 3.—Rev. Stephen Makara, forty-two, pastor of St. John's Greek Catholic church, and his housekeeper, Mrs. Anne Fedor, sixty, are dead as a result of burns suffered when the parish house in the rear of the church was destroyed by fire believed to have been of incendiary origin.

The house was a mass of flames and beyond hope of saving when neighbors discovered the flames. Twenty minutes elapsed before any one turned in an alarm. The parish house was a tottering ruin when the first stream of water was turned on it. Rev. Makara was found dead in his bed. The housekeeper, who evidently had tried to reach the room of the sleeping priest to arouse him, was found unconscious in an upper hallway. Her clothing was burned entirely from her body, which was a charred mass of flesh.

PEACE TALK DELAYED.

Rival Mexican Generals Too Busy On Battlefield.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Mexican generals were too busy fighting to hold the peace convention, scheduled by Provisional President Gutierrez, according to diplomatic dispatches here. The new convention proposed now for Jan. 10 may also be indefinitely postponed.

Until the Villista forces attain a decisive victory on the east coast and at Monterrey, it is considered impossible to hold the convention. Gutierrez will keep in control in the meantime. Advice to the rival juntas here are that extensive military operations require the presence of Villa and Zapata leaders in the field. Villa, however, is reported waiting in Mexico City and Zapata at Cuernavaca.

General Scott, chief of staff, reported further progress in his negotiations to make the Arizona border immune from bullets of the Maytorena and Hill armies.

Immigration Bill Carries

Washington, Jan. 2.—By the overwhelming vote of 50 to 7 the Senate tonight ignored President Wilson by passing the Immigration bill, literacy test and all. It is stated here tonight that the president will undoubtedly veto the bill but it is believed that with the overwhelming majorities given it by both the House and Senate it will be passed over the president's head.

But one important amendment was added in the Senate which was to exempt Belgian refugees from the literacy test during the European war.

Aged Scientist Peculiar Death

Chicago, Jan. 4.—Despondent because all his relatives in Germany had been killed in the war, Charles Mayo, an aged chemist and student of psychic phenomena, committed suicide last night.

The last act of his life—the act which terminated that life—Mayo used in an experiment with the psychology of death. This experiment he explained in a note to Charles Gutowski, one of his subordinates and his confidant. It follows:

"I'll hear the sound of the shot

I will make a mark with my pencil on your envelope. On making that mark I will concentrate my whole being. If the mark is there it will be known definitely that a man with a bullet in his heart doesn't die at once."

When Mayo did not appear at the office today employees broke open a room adjoining his laboratory, where he sometimes slept, and found his body.

There was no mark on the envelope.

Mayo constructed an apparatus which required a minimum of strength in the discharge of the revolver, and assured perfect aim.

He was a graduate of the University of Munich. He spent twelve years in New York city in the practice of medicine.

Prospects for Suffrage Vote Are Not Bright

Washington, Jan. 4.—Prospect of a vote in the house of representatives on the proposed constitutional amendment enfranchising women in developing backward from a certainty to a possibility.

Chairman Henry, of the rules committee, has not yet reported to the house the decision of the committee to allot time for consideration of the suffrage resolution, and their mention first of January 11 and a few days later of January 12 as the date to be set for a vote on the measure were hints rather than definite announcements.

Suffragists are gathering in Washington to support the measure. Prominent women from all parts of the country are joining the delegation which will visit the White House on January 6 to ask President Wilson to support the passage of the resolution.

Among the wives of Democratic congressmen who will participate in the demonstration, organized by Mrs. George A. Ames, of the National Woman's Party, are Mrs. John Evans and Mrs. Thomas Stout, of Montana, and Mrs. John Stevens, of Texas.

Other well-known Democratic women who have joined the delegation are Miss Alberta Hill, of New York, who served as assistant organizer at the Democratic national headquarters during the Wilson campaign, and Mrs. John E. Turner, of Nashville, president of the Tennessee branch of the Wilson and Marshall League.

The Pennsylvania delegation will include Dr. Frances VanGlasen, of Philadelphia, senior physician of the Women's Medical College hospital, and Mrs. Elizabeth Wager-Smith, president of the Philadelphia Women's Democratic League. Mrs. Mary Morgan and Mrs. Reuben Satterswaite, of Wilmington, will lead the Delaware delegation. Maryland will be represented by Mrs.

Laurens Prior, Mrs. George Wilson and Mrs. J. Ross Thompson, and Virginia by Mrs. Frank Harper, Mrs. E. E. Nicol, Miss Marie L. Nicol and Miss Fanny Nicol. Representative Helgeson, of North Dakota, announced today that he intended to vote for the Mondell resolution, although his state rejected the proposition at the last election.

Cleveland, Jan. 4.—When eastern Ohio coal operators went into conference here it was indicated they would resubmit to striking miners the Pittsburgh scale of 15 cents a ton. Find Bones of Victim

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 4.—Two skulls and several large bones which, it is believed, may be parts of the skeletons of Mrs. Elois Nelms Dennis and her sister, Miss Beatrice Nelms, of Atlanta, have been found by hunters in a dry creek near Divine, Texas, thirty miles south of San Antonio. The bones are clean of flesh and were in a sack which evidently had been buried but a few months.

An examination is said to have shown that the teeth in one of the skulls corresponded with the description of the teeth of Mrs. Dennis in some respects. The Nelms sisters left Atlanta June 19, 1914, to investigate land investments made by Mrs. Dennis in Texas, and Mexico. They were traced to New Orleans, Houston and San Antonio, and here the trail was lost about June 27.

Victor E. Hunt and wife, who were arrested in Oregon and charged with the murder of the two women were recently acquitted in the district court in San Antonio.

Copper Scarce in Germany.

Berlin, Jan. 4.—The scarcity of copper in Germany is becoming a very serious problem. Evidence of this is seen in dispatches from Berlin which state that all copper telegraph and cable wires are to be taken down, and that acetylene is to be substituted for electric lighting. It is also reported that the Germans have removed the great bronze gates at the railway station in Antwerp.

The man who gets to the top is about the only one who is satisfied to let well enough alone.

DON'T STIFLE A COLD
BUT REMOVE THE CAUSE

It is a mark of intelligence today to know the proper treatment for colds, because a cold is the entering wedge for serious sickness and is only present when the system is weakened.

The common mistake is to dose with strong cathartics; to depend on drugged syrups or the false stimulation of alcoholic preparations which plunge the system into deeper weakness.

Every day thinking people are learning that the pure medicinal nourishment in Scott's Emulsion furnishes Nature's oil-fool to remove the weakness and builds blood quickly and warmly in the body to thwart sickness. It is pleasant to take.

That life is full of ups and downs

Climate Failed; Medicine Effective

Sufferers from Tuberculosis often think that medicine will not help them. A fresh air, regular habits and good food aid in restoring health, but more is often needed. Many have been reduced to health by Beckman's Alternative. Read this—

"Gentlemen—I brought your instrumentality. I have been saved from a premature grave. On December 14, 1905, I was taken with Typhoid Pneumonia, which developed into Tuberculosis (death) were it not for Beckman's Alternative. I went to Fort Worth, Texas, and later to Union City, Colorado. After being there two weeks my physician informed me that my case was hopeless. Three weeks later I returned home, weighing 105 pounds, the doctor having given me no assurance of reaching there alive. On July 14, 1905, I began taking Beckman's Alternative, and in a few days I was able to get out of bed and do a kind of work about my grain elevator. (Unrestrained.)"

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring back color, thickness and lustre—Everybody is using it again.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur Compound restores its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

TABERNACLE

Sunday it is believed that the meeting was even more successful. The sermon was a masterpiece and the speaker swayed his hearers with earnest and fervent appeals. His sermon in full is as follows:

"SAMPSON"

Judges 16:6: "Tell me I pray thee where the great strength lieth."

Sampson came on the scene in the dark days of Israel's history. He stands out in this period alone. He is a good type of many a man in his religious experience today. This great muscular, untutored man was a Nazirite.

His hair was not to be touched with the razor. Soon he made himself felt and heathen hoards around him began to inquire, "Who is he?" They realized he was no ordinary type of a man, but one worthy of thought and study.

There were five events which led up to the question of the first text, "Tell me, I pray thee where in thy great strength lieth." The first was when he was on his way to plan for his marriage with the Philistine maiden and a lion met him by the way and he slew it as though it had been a kid. The second when he avenged himself on those who by trick and deceit obtained the answer to the riddle, and he slew thirty men of Askelon.

It was no doubt noised abroad that this strange man who had appeared, was mighty and void of fear and able to repulse a little army.

The third instance was when he avenged the death of his wife and father-in-law by catching the foxes and sending them out with fire brands to burn down the shocks and standing corn. This lone man of the Hebrews was acting "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" for he said, "As they have done unto me, so have I done unto them.

The fourth instance was when the men of Judah delivered him over into the hands of the Philistines and with the jawbone of an ass he slew eight and left until a thousand men lay dead in heaps at his feet. When he looked upon his success he sang exultantly, "Heap up heap have I slain a thousand men."

The fifth instance was when he gathered the gates of Gaza and the posts on his shoulders up the hill. Here were five feats that were distinctively wonderful. They could not be explained on ordinary grounds. No surface explanation would avail to explain the omnipotence of God. These men had strong men in their ranks, but they were as babes in his hands. A price was put into the hands of Delilah and she seeks to discover the secret of his strength. It worked asleep in the lap of his enemy his locks were clipped. When she cries again, "The Philistines be upon thee," he said, "I will arise as at other time and shake myself," but he knew not that the Lord had departed from him. They sprang upon him, they put out his eyes, they bound him in fetters of brass and groaning in pain he ground at the mill of the gods a slave.

The secret of Sampson's mighty power is found in these words, "The Spirit of the Lord came mightily upon him." When these words are recorded in the life of any church or individual, it will be sufficient to raise the intermen. It will start men guessing as they did with Charles Spurgeon and D. L. Moody, but the secret of those men was, "And the spirit came mightily upon them."

Sampson, the Faller

There are churches in this country which have had such spiritual power that men have asked, "What is the secret of this power?" Men came flocking to the church doors like doves to the windows. The last available space was occupied. The churches have become too small to accommodate the crowds, drawn by that magnetic attraction, spiritual magnetism.

But little by little, the enthusiasm waned; the churches are too large and it is too hard to meet the expenses of the church. Something is wrong. Something has clipped the locks of power. There are those who have had rich Christian experiences. They were once earnest and loyal, faithful to the church. There was nothing too hard to ask them to do. They were earnest, hungry listeners to the Gospel. They drank it in and worked out with great joy. But now, their closet door of prayer is closed and they are out of it. The Bible which they once read and loved is now a closed book. The dust of time has settled on its leaves. The family altar has gone down. No prayer is heard in their homes. Sermons which once moved them mightily now seem strange to them. They have lost their grip on God. God pity some churches if they have never enjoyed more spiritual power than now and may heavens compassion rest on many people if they have never seen better spiritual days than they enjoy now. If they have never known more joy and peace in the service of Jesus Christ than now.

A woman said to me, "I don't want you to think I have always lived so carelessly. There was a time when I enjoyed to pray and to read the Word of God, when I was present at the services of the church. I have seen better days than these. I have not had the peace of God for forty years."

She had become a castaway. God could not use her. She was an unclean vessel. There are many who have seen better spiritual days, but they are castaways. They are laid on the shelf. God can't use them. They are not lost, perhaps, but they have lost their power. I am speaking no doubt to some who were once faithful officers of the church, but you have lost the song of God. I am speaking to those who were once faithful Sunday School teachers. You enjoyed to teach the unsearchable riches of Christ to the inquiring minds as they sat before you, eager to learn of the deep things of God, but you are conscious that something has gone out of your life. I am speaking no doubt to others who have had the joy of leading others to Christ, but your own heart knows its bitterness. Paul said, "I keep my body under, lest I by preaching to others become a castaway."

A little girl was searching through the papers in an old trunk in the attic and she came up on an old faded church letter which had been granted to her mother some years before. She ran to her mother in great excitement. "Mamma, I have found your religion up in the old trunk in the attic"—and so she had.

Henry W. Grady, the famous editor, was for a time a heart-broken sinner. He rose one Sunday morning and came forward and said to his minister, Brother Morrison, I want to make a new start. A profound silence fell over the audience and Mr. Brady led in prayer. There was a confession of his sins and a plea for forgiveness and restoration of those years of barrenness in life. Strong men in the congregation sobbed loudly that morning, but the angels must have sang for joy.

I have read of a woman who was sadly broken in heart when her daughter left home, saying she was tired of home. Several months after she felt she had gone out into a world of sorrow and trial. Her heart turned homeward. She waited until evening and then she came gently to the door and it opened at once and she came in and knelt down by the side of her mother. She put her arms around her and the talked together for awhile, and she said, "Mother, you never failed to bolt the door when dark came when I was here. How is it I only had to turn the knob this evening?"

"My child, the mother said, 'The door was never barred since you went away. I wanted you to find it just as you left it'—and that is Christ. He has never bolted the door on you since you lost fellowship. There he waits with open and outstretched arms ready to receive you saying, 'If you confess your sins, I am faithful and just to forgive you your sins and to cleanse you from all unrighteousness.'"

Well—Mrs. Dashway says she knows all the ins and outs of marriage. "Belle—She ought to. She has been married and divorced three or four times."

OHIO ASSEMBLY IS UNDER WAY

Republican Caucus Nominees Made Regular Officers.

Columbus, Jan. 4.—Ohio's Eighty-first general assembly is under headway. Governor Cox fired the opening gun in the shape of a 6,000 word message giving the Republican house and senate a lot of advice on how to run the government.

As the Republican majorities in both branches will do nothing important until Governor-elect Willis is sworn in next Monday, they showed only mild interest in the Cox recommendations.

Many routine matters were disposed of in opening. First the Republican caucus nominees were elected permanent legislative officers.

In the house Representative C. D. Conover, Republican, was elected speaker over John D. Kramer, Democrat, of Richland county, who will be Democratic floor leader. John P. Maynard, Republican, of Lima, was elected clerk, and Dr. Alfred Robinson, Republican, of Tronton, sergeant-at-arms.

In the senate the Republicans went through the routine of electing Senator Charles J. Howard of Barnesville president pro tem, W. E. Halley of Greenville clerk, and F. M. Ackerman of Ottawa sergeant-at-arms.

Governor Cox prepared for the senate a long list of recess appointments, out the Republican majority decided not to confirm, but to await Governor-elect Willis' wishes. In other words, to let Willisoust all or part of the Cox recess appointees.

The opening of the legislature in both branches was marked by the usual crowded galleries and flowers.

"Partisanship must be lost to view in consideration of the greatest good to citizens of the state," said Speaker Conover, in his address immediately after being elected. "I promise to be fair and impartial and to give every member a chance to be heard. I have a duty to perform for the state which I can do only with the aid of your co-operation."

"The people asked that certain things be done and these things must be given them or we fail in our duty in writing laws this body never should lose its character as a deliberative assembly. We owe a high responsibility to the people we represent and we should be responsive to their demands."

Proce Resolution Held Up.
Columbus, Jan. 4.—Republicans at the house at a caucus decided to postpone until next week the resolution which is to be introduced by Dr. W. S. Hoy, Republican of Jackson county, providing for an investigation of the civil service law and the suspension of the operations of the law during the investigation.

BANKER BREAKS JAIL.
Was Serving Long Sentence For Swindle On Belgian Public.

Paris, Jan. 4.—Nestor Wilmar, a former banker, railroad man, newspaper proprietor and sportsman, who was serving a sentence in the St. Gilles prison at Brussels in connection with financial irregularities, has succeeded in escaping, according to a dispatch received here from Basel, Switzerland.

Wilmar in July last was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment and to a fine of $8,000 following his conviction at Brussels on a charge that he swindled the public out of $1,400,000 by over-selling shares in the Ghent-Terneuzen railway in 1912.

The Ghent-Terneuzen railway was privately owned, and the operations of Wilmar placed a number of small banks in difficulties. He disappeared in 1912, and after a worldwide search was arrested in Rheims, France.

MURDERS HIS WIFE.
Cabaret Singer Mistakes Brother-in-Law For Intruder.

New York Jan. 4.—Mrs. Frances Collins was shot and killed at her home, where she lived with her husband, William, and her two brothers. The husband is locked up, charged with murder.

Collins, who is a cabaret singer, and his wife quarreled early in the evening. When he returned home he heard her voice in an adjoining bedroom. He went to the door, peeped through the keyhole and saw her sitting in a man's lap. Collins demanded admission, was refused, and it is charged, fired through the panel of the door. Mrs. Collins fell to the floor, fatally wounded.

The man in whose lap Mrs. Collins was sitting was her brother, George.

Russia Denies Peace Rumor.

Rome, Jan. 4.—The Russian embassy here has issued an official denial to the rumors that Russia was ready to conclude peace and declares that Russia will continue the war until the enemy is compelled to accept the conditions of peace prescribed by the allies.

Ends Life In Jail.

Canton, O., Jan. 4.—Joseph Roudelusch, forty-five, a grocery salesman, arrested for alleged embezzlement, drank carbolic acid in the Stark county jail and died.

BLAMES LAKE ERIE.

Cleveland Priest Explains Tilting of Earth's Crust Along Shore.

Cleveland, Jan. 4.—A scientific explanation of a mysterious tilting of the earth's crust along the shore of Lake Erie, a phenomenon which, unknown to most people, may have seriously affected the adjustment of delicate instruments, was discovered by Father Frederick Odenbach, astronomer at St. Ignace college.

The "leanings" which is a regular thing, according to the local savant, is caused by nothing more mysterious than an increase in the weight of Lake Erie. The priest found that the difference between the weight of a cubic foot of water in summer and winter is .110 pound and that the total weight of the water in the lake in February was 1,378,980,800 tons greater than in August.

Your Sick Child Is Constipated! Look at Tongue

No matter what a sick child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that it's little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a tea-spoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of his little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrup. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs"; then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

Asthma-Catarrh and Bronchitis

Can Be Greatly Relieved by the New External Vapor Treatment.

Melt in a spoon a little Vick's "Vapo-Rub" Croup and Pneumonia Salve and inhale the vapors. Put a little up each nostril and at night apply well over breast and chest, covering with a warm flannel cloth. Leave the covering loose round the neck so that the vapors of eucalypti, thymol, eucalyptol, camphor, and Pine Tar, that are released by the body heat, may be inhaled all night long. In Asthma and Hay Fever rub Vick's over the spinal column to relax the nervous tension. This treatment is not a "cure," but it has at least the merit of containing no harmful drugs and it is sold by all druggists in 25c, 50c, and $1.00 jars, on thirty days' trial. Vick's is also excellent for all croup and cold troubles.

VICK'S CROUP AND SALVE

Makes Stubborn Coughs Vanish in a Hurry

Surprisingly Good Cough Syrup Easily and Cheaply Made at Home

If some one in your family has an obstinate cough or a bad throat or chest cold that has been hanging on and refuses to yield to treatment, get from any drug store 2½ ounces of Pinex and make it into a pint of cough syrup, and watch that cough vanish.

Pour the 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. The total cost is about 54 cents, and gives you a full pint—a family supply—of a most effective remedy, at a saving of 82. A day's use will usually overcome a bad cough, easily prepared in 5 minutes—full directions with Pinex. Keeps perfectly and has a pleasant taste. Children like it.

It's really remarkable how promptly and easily it loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals the inflamed membranes in a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough. A splendid remedy for bronchitis, whooping cough, bronchial asthma and whooping cough.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in quinine which is so healing to the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for 2½ ounces of Pinex, and do not accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction goes with this preparation or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

weds are now in Cincinnati but their further plans were not made known. It is thought however, that they will return soon and go to housekeeping in Walhonding.

Mr. Buxton is the son of Mr. James Buxton and is proprietor of the Buxton store. He has recently received the appointment of postmaster of Walhonding and will take care of this in connection with the store. He is a young man of sterling qualities and stands high among the people of his home community. Mrs. Buxton is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McVey of Walhonding and a sister of Mrs. C. M. Hay of Coshocton.

While the wedding was not altogether unexpected among the friends of the young people its announcement at this time comes as a complete surprise. The bride and bridegroom left Walhonding last Thursday to spend New Year's day with Mr. and Mrs. William Wheeler, in Columbus. From there they went to Covington, Saturday, where the ceremony was solemnized and although their plans were fully arranged when they left home they managed to keep them a secret from even the nearest relatives and friends.

THE PUBLIC PRINTING GRAFT

The other day Auditor of State Donahay gave out an interview to the papers criticizing the useless waste of the state's money in the publication of thousands of volumes of reports by the various state departments.

Mr. Donahay characterizes this practice as an unwarranted extravagance. He says these reports run into the hundreds of pages; that less than fifty applications from citizens were received last year for them; and that they are carted to the state house basement where they lie until a fresh batch is prepared the following year and are then sold to junk dealers and room is made for another flood of printed matter equally useless and unused.

Mr. Donahay has made no discovery along this line. Other state officials in years past have noted the same waste of money and have made the same criticism. But this does not detract from the truth and the importance of what the auditor has said. The printing bill of the state has been enormous for the last two decades and really no benefit is derived by the people.

No one has either the time, inclination or ability to wade through these hundreds of thousands of printed pages to find out what our state officials are doing. At present, if any citizen is so inclined, he would have to read approximately 50 volumes varying in length from 200 to 1000 pages. The task is so bewildering on its face that no one would think seriously of attempting it.

But if Mr. Donahay's criticism of the volume of state printing is just, what must be said of the mass of printed matter turned out annually by the federal government? Here is the real place to start a printing reform. It is safe to say that nine-tenths of the printing authorized by members of congress and the various departments of the federal government goes the same trip that our state printed matter goes.

Indeed, if our state printing can be trimmed an extravagance, our national printing approaches a scandal. All sorts of liberties are taken with the federal print shop. The individual congressional and senatorial campaigns are now fought by our representatives at public expense. For months prior to congressional elections the mails are flooded with tons of literature sent out at public expense by candidates for federal offices.

This, together with the franking privilege so grossly abused by practically all our congressmen and senators, actually constitute a national scandal that has been exposed time and again. It is the chief cause of the chronic deficits in the postoffice department which, sooner or later will have to be remedied.

Auditor Donahay has performed a real public service in thus calling the attention of the taxpayers of Ohio to this great waste of money. It is to be hoped that the issue he has raised will not be allowed to drop until an actual reform has been achieved.

ALWAYS BUSY
By WALT MASON

I called on James Augustus Jinks, a carpenter of fame, to make a pair of kitchen sinks, and need a quelling frame. "I cannot come right now," he said, "your little chores to do, I have so blamed much work ahead, the end is not in view. My time for weeks ahead is filled, I'm wanted everywhere, I have all sorts of shacks to build, and others to repair." A hundred workmen in the town are saying times are bad; they say they chase all chances down, and cannot earn a cent. And if perchance one gets a job, he works not with his might, but talks of how employers rob the poor man, left and right. If he is chopping down a tree, his strokes are soft and slow; he tries to make a noise lest he won't hear the whistle blow. He does as little as he can throughout his working day, but he's an energetic man when calling for his pay. I don't believe that any gent who works with might and main, but sit on earning every cent, has reason to complain. The world will hunt him to his lair to hire his skill and vim; he doesn't seek work in despair, or work is seeking him.

PEOPLES' FORUM

OPPOSE RESERVOIR

Editor The Tribune:

In view of the proposition now before the city council to build a new reservoir at a cost of $50,000.00, or more, it may be proper to inquire whether another reservoir is actually needed.

On inquiry at the city water works we learned that for each inhabitant in the city, there is now 145 gallons of water pumped daily.

A recent test of 100 days with a water meter shows that only twenty-five gallons were used daily in a family of two persons. That included water for general household purposes except for laundry, and included water for one bath tub. On that basis, the average family of five persons consumes 62.5 gallons daily. While the householder pays for 725 gallons. The rate in cities having meters is on an average about ten cents per thousand gallons; some have a rate as low as eight cents per thousand. Calculated on the basis of the average cost in cities having meters, the householder in Coshocton pays $1.28 cents annually for water he actually uses and $6.72 cents for water some one else uses or wastes.

Another test with a meter shows that a family of five persons consumes less than 100 gal. daily. Estimating our population at 11,000, the number of families in the city is approximately 2,200. Now if each family uses 100 gal. daily the total for household use would be 220,000 gal. The factories, all of which have meters, use 215,000 gal. daily. The total amount of water actually used is 435,000 gal. The amount wasted is 965,000 gal. Making a liberal allowance for unavoidable waste it is clear that the present water supply is ample to support a population of 20,000 persons.

Another reservoir will not lower the water rates, but will continue the present high rate and perpetuate an antiquated and unjust system. The proper remedy is the installation of meters. Meters can be installed at no ultimate cost to the city, if so desired, and avoid the proposed bond issue. A better plan is to have the city own the meters which plan can be put into effect without much expense and without any bond issue.

Many cities have no reservoirs. They keep up their water supply by having their reserve pump and modern machinery.

A liberal reward will be given for the publication of any article showing a plausible excuse for holding the city for another reservoir at this time.

State auditor Donahay has recently called attention to the "craze for bond issues" prevalent in Ohio cities, and its dangers. Evidently that craze has struck Coshocton.

Another Judge Will be Needed

Because he acted as attorney in fully one-third of the cases which remained unsettled on the docket of common pleas court, Judge James Glenn, who assumed the office of Judge of Common Pleas court Saturday, will find it necessary to exchange benches with a neighboring judge until the case are settled. His acting as attorney in the cases disqualifies him as judge in the settlement of the cases.

Acid Stomachs Are Dangerous

Common Sense Advice by a Distinguished Specialist.

"Acid" stomachs are dangerous because acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach, thus hindering and preventing the proper action of the stomach, and leading to probably nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble from which people suffer. Ordinary medicines and medical treatments are useless in such cases, for they leave the source of the trouble, the acid in the stomach, as dangerous as ever. The acid must be neutralized, and its formation prevented, and the best thing for this purpose is a teaspoonful of bisaturated magnesia, a simple antacid, taken in a little warm or cold water after eating, which not only neutralizes the acid, but also prevents the fermentation from which acidity is developed. Foods which ordinarily cause distress may be eaten with impunity if the meal is followed with a little bisaturated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, and should always be kept handy.

England Retains Lead.

Washington, Jan. 4.—Naval experts in Washington have thrown up their hands in despair over the task of calculating officially the present relative strength of the British, German and United States navies, but approximate figures indicate that in total warship tonnage the British, notwithstanding their losses, are more than twice as strong as the Germans, while in battleship tonnage the Germans have a trifle more than half as much as the British navy. The relative strength of the United States has hardly been affected one way or the other by the war developments. She ranked as the third naval power before the war and is still in third place.

PANIC SEIZES AUSTRIAN ARMY

Petrograd Reports Whole Regiments Surrendering.

Petrograd, Jan. 4.—The Austrian armies in Galicia are reported to be panic-stricken and whole regiments are said to be laying down their arms and surrendering to the Russians. Dispatches from Lemberg state that the resistance of the Austrian forces as an organized body, has completely collapsed and that the troops of the dual monarchy are offering an effective defense only at isolated points. The garrison at Przemyśl is making daily attempts to smash the iron ring that Russia has made around the stronghold. From the desperation of these attacks upon the forces besieging Przemyśl it is believed that the larger part of the garrison consists of German troops. The garrison has lost heavily in its latest sorties and it is believed here that Przemyśl will soon be compelled to fall.

The situation in Poland shows no indication of an immediate break in the deadlock that has developed, with the trenches of the Germans and Russians only a few yards from each other. The Germans are being steadily repulsed in isolated attacks along the Bzura and along the Pilica. The official Russian reports make no claims of great gains for the czar's troops, but claim that their positions are being maintained despite attacks by the Germans both by night and day.

Along the Rawka river the conditions have not yet reached those of a siege as prevail on other portions of the front. Both sides are fighting for the possession of the town of Rawa and the heights upon which it stands. North of the Vistula the situation is developing. On Saturday a small German force crossed the Vistula near Plock, attempting to effect a junction with the Germans who have advanced toward Mlawa. The Russians at Plock turned back the Germans, however, and the attempt at a junction proved abortive.

POISON IS EFFECTIVE.

Child Dies From Dose Administered by Its Mother.

New York, Jan. 4.—Little John Rogers aged two, and a half years, whose mother, Mrs. Ida Sniffen Walter "Rogers," gave him poison at the same time she poisoned his eight-month-old sister and herself, in their home in the Bronx, last Tuesday, died in the Lebanon hospital.

As the child died his mother lay a death's dool from an admixture of mercury poisoning in an adjoining ward pleading to see her husband, whom she is alleged to have deserted for Loris Elton Rogers, a lawyer, and the male figure in the strange tragedy of love and death. The other child died a few days ago.

MONUMENT DYNAMITED.

Vandals Desecrate Resting Place of Noted Mountain Climber.

Asheville, N. C., Jan. 4.—Word was received here of the destruction by dynamite of the monument of Mount Mitchell, the highest point east of the Rocky mountains, erected twenty-six years ago in memory of Professor Elisha Mitchell, for whom the mountain was named. It is not known who committed the act.

Professor Mitchell, a member of the faculty of the University of North Carolina, established the height on the peak as 6,711 feet. He eventually lost his life while exploring the mountain and was buried on the summit. The memorial was erected by the alumni of the university.

Whitman Orders Probe.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 4.—Governor Whitman intends to probe state departments to find out how many jobs can be cut out and what reforms can be instituted, rather than unearthing wrongdoings and enter upon criminal prosecutions, it was said by a close friend of the governor. The governor is prosecuting officer and will do what he can to build up the state government in accordance with the promises made in his inaugural address. The governor will permit department heads who are in accord with his views to make their own investigations and report to him what ought to be done to cut out waste and keep down expenses. The first office to come under the surveillance of the governor will be that of the state engineer.

BOSTON WOOL.

Boston, Jan. 4.—There is a very firm market for all grades of both domestic and foreign wool, with notable strength to the situation in medium and low grades, supplies of which are not excessive and the demand throughout the world very active. There is little real speculation in this branch of the business, the demand being based upon the actual requirements of the European belligerents. There is a very firm tone to all branches of the market and the inquiry from domestic manufacturers is not only more active in some instances, but shows evidence of general revival. There are indications that manufacturers are in greater need of supplies.

RIGHT OF SEARCH UPHELD.

England Will Insist On Rights of Allies In War.

London, Jan. 4.—There is not the remotest question of relinquishing our right of search which would militate against the interests of the allies to the advantage of the enemy, the most that can be expected is that every care will be taken to insure that our right is exercised with the maximum amount of care and the minimum of hardship and friction.

The British press association thus forecasted the answer of the British government to President Wilson's note protesting against interference with American merchant ships by British men-of-war on the high seas.

"The reply of the foreign office to the American note has not yet been delivered, nor even drawn up," the press association continues. "Walter H. Page, the American ambassador, called at the foreign office, but the visit was not prompted by the expectation of a delivery of a reply at that time. The whole matter is receiving earnest, careful consideration. The government's reply will be made in due time in considerable detail. The British government is not being actuated by diplomatic considerations alone, but is being guided largely by naval and military expert opinion."

Killed by Neighbor.

Milford, K., Jan. 4.—Nelson Marksberry, a farmer, was shot and instantly killed by Belo Turner, also a farmer, when they met in the road near Turner's home, about three miles west of Milford, in Pendleton county. The two men were neighbors. The difficulty that led to the tragedy was caused by friction between the Turner and Marksberry children. Turner gave himself up and was placed in jail at Thelma for safekeeping.

DISCUSSES FISCAL AFFAIRS

Points With Pride to Unprecedented Balance in General Revenue Fund as Achievement of Administration. Revives Proposition For State Departmental Building and Governor's Residence.

Columbus, Jan. 4.—Governor James M. Cox today submitted the following message to both branches of the Ohio general assembly:

To the General Assembly:

The past two years have carried us through the evolutionary changes in our state government growing out of the new constitution. The mandates issued by the people have been respected. The enlarged legislative authority has been exercised by the general assembly. The laws are in operation and the social and economic conditions that have resulted are so advantageous as to need no elaboration in this document. Two years ago the people were congratulated upon what we believed to be a manifestation of their wisdom in adapting themselves, through governmental agencies, to industrial developments; and I take this occasion to extend further congratulations now that there has been a demonstration by practical results.

It is the fiscal affairs of the state that I desire primarily to discuss. There is in the general revenue fund of the state on Dec. 31, 1914, $8,654,728.98, a sum unprecedented in size. The balances in that fund as of the same calendar date in eight previous years were as follows:

December 31, 1913	$8,187,805.28
December 31, 1912	7,028,807.98
December 31, 1911	5,929,445.28
December 31, 1910	4,746,821.61
December 31, 1909	4,802,609.95
December 31, 1908	5,942,087.50
December 31, 1907	5,885,239.61
December 31, 1906	5,956,291.49

In addition to the general revenue fund there were in the treasury Dec. 31, 1914, moneys under the following Extraordinary Expenses Incurred.

It must be borne in mind that this unparalleled condition of state finances exists in spite of extraordinary expenses growing out of emergencies of the present administration. The flood catastrophe of 1913 cost the state approximately $1,000,000, while all bills incurred in the year 1912 by the constitutional convention—legal advertising, etc.—were paid in 1913 for the reason that that was the first opportunity the legislature had of making the necessary appropriations. In addition to these matters, deficiencies authorized by the emergency board in 1912, amounting to $243,359.65, were taken care of the next year—1913—as had been the custom in the past. That the large balance has not been accumulated as the result of any neglect to the state institutions is shown by the provision which was made during 1913-14 for these several departments. During the biennium of 1913-14 there was disbursed for new buildings and lands for our universities, normal schools, state hospitals and correctional institutions $5,291,834.41. The items making up this total should be considered as betterments because the buildings for the most part are of fireproof construction and the lands will continue to grow in value. In 1909-10 the state spent for buildings and lands $1,774,258.76. In 1911-12 the disbursements for these purposes were $2,174,227.85; so that the present balance in the general revenue fund is emphasized when we consider that from it was taken in 1913-14 almost as much money for permanent betterments in behalf of state institutions as was provided in the previous four years, in order to correct a misapprehension which seems to be more or less general, not a dollar in the general revenue fund is derived by direct taxation inasmuch as public opinion, for or against governmental reform, often develops from the logic of cost in dollars and cents to the individual. It is regrettable that a propaganda has been maintained in this state for the apparent mischievous purpose of befogging the public mind with reference to our real financial condition. The statement that a deficit existed in the treasury has been too absurd for consideration. Those who pursued that erroneous thought argued from the contention that against the cash balance in the treasury there should be figured the sum total of appropriations authorized by the general assembly. For illustration: It was said that if there were $10,000,000 in the treasury on the date that an appropriation bill became legally operative and the budget itself carried $11,000,000 to be expended within twelve months' time, then a deficit of $1,000,000 was created. If this principal were adopted in the affairs of private or corporate enterprises there would be few solvent concerns, and yet, applying this fallacious theory at this time the balance in the general revenue fund on the last day of the calendar year is large enough to overwhelm that argument because no deficit could be shown even by that method of bookkeeping. A considerable factor in the satisfactory condition of the finances of this commonwealth has been the passage of laws which make every department, with regularity authority, self-supporting. Not only does society benefit by governmental regulation along prudent lines, but the institutions upon which official limitations are visited profit themselves, so the laws in question sprang from the thought that these organized agencies of business should bear the cost rather than impose it upon government.

Benefits Are Obvious.

Insurance companies, public utility corporations, building associations, banks, brokerage enterprises, etc., are not unwilling contributors to the public funds because the elements of benefit to them and justice to the public are too obvious to be denied. The law licensing and regulating the liquor traffic provided that, in addition to the regular $1,000 fee, there should be a registration cost of $100. The $100 assessment is divided by statute among the local and state governments. The $100 was levied for the purpose of maintaining the cost of regulation. The excess of collections over the expense of the entire license machinery has been sufficient to enable us to turn into the general revenue fund within the last year $750,000.

The genius of man has evolved principles of business in organization and accounting which clearly demonstrate the tremendous economic waste that flowed from old methods; and yet with no lingering skepticism of the new order, government has been unaccountably slow in departing from the beaten path. Within the last two years the budget department has been created by the state, and the gentleman in charge, Mr. Heffernan, brought to this very arduous responsibility, not only a broad and successful experience as an efficiency man and business expert, but he was trained in the methods of the bureau of municipal research in New York and came to us well equipped in budgetary work. In a recent report to the executive department he says:

"No commercial corporation, without reference to size, could survive a period of twelve months if its fiscal policy were the same as that which obtained in the state of Ohio prior to your incumbency in office. For an individual or corporation to continue business as the state of Ohio in the past has conducted her activities would mean bankruptcy."

First of all, it was found that the state had a fiscal year, an appropriation year, a college year and one department operating under the calendar year. The appropriation year began Feb. 16. The legislature assembled by constitutional provision the first Monday in January, and of necessity the appropriation bill has been prepared in haste in order to have it available on the 16th of February. As a result, the appropriation committees of the senate and house have never had sufficient time to analyze the estimates coming from the departments and to legalize disbursements in harmony with correct business principles.

Lump Sum Appropriations. The fiscal year, under Section 260 of the general code, for all departments, institutions, public works and buildings of the state, ran from the 16th day of November to the 15th day of the next November, with inclusive. The appropriation year, as already noted, began Feb. 16 and ended Feb. 15. The last general assembly changed both the fiscal and the appropriation years, and the new fiscal and appropriation years begin July 1 and run until June 30. Inasmuch as the federal government has precisely the same arrangement and practically every state as well, comparisons can now be made with some guarantee of coherency. The old plan, too, has been unfavorable to the schools. The common schools, normal schools and universities begin in September and end in June. Under the old system comparisons were unsatisfactory, either in the consideration of enrollment or fiscal affairs, because a part of two years had to be taken into account. The time fixed for filing annual reports in midsummer is more advantageous for the reason that it is ordinarily the slack season. Under the old plan this work had to be done during a period of great departmental activity. Since its establishment as a state Ohio has made her appropriations in lump sum. There has never been a segregated budget. Its necessity was not so pressing in the days when the state was poor and the revenues were derived by direct taxation. Government was a smaller affair in the industrial and social activities. The approximate expense was easily computed and the direct tax levied on the state duplicate was made just large enough to meet the bills. Conditions, however, have changed. The state levy is only made for the universities, the school fund and what is known as the irreducible debt, the expenses of the departments being borne by expense or indirect taxation. Without the elements of vigilance, prudence and budgetary efficiency, a plethora of treasury would be a curse to the state. It is important that each department, instead of receiving a lump sum, or inflexible specific appropriations, as they have in the past, be given flexible specific appropriations in the form of a segregated budget which will be submitted to you this year for the first time in the history of Ohio. An example of the lump sum appropriation is:

"Maintenance" $100,000
Of the inflexible specific appropriation:

"Engineers" $7,500.

Under practices of the past the legislature has acted largely upon the estimates of the departments. When the legislature is not in session the emergency board, consisting of the governor, attorney general, auditor and the respective chairmen of the senate and house finance committees, has the right to hold sessions and legalize disbursements from the treasury for pure emergencies. The departments, recognizing the restricted authority of the emergency board, have proceeded doubtless from the thought that it would be better to ask for ample sums and turn back the undistributed amount at the end of the fiscal year than to request a lesser amount that might be insufficient. This made department officers the custodians of funds which they could disburse without restraint or limitation so long as it was for the legitimate operations of the specific branch of the government; and if the evil of extravagance did not spring up, then it was no fault of the fiscal system to which we have held entirely too long. My experience as a member of the appropriations committee in Washington, and in the station now occupied, leads me to the positive conviction that the tendency toward increased and excessive cost of government, national, state and local, grows entirely out of the failure to adopt a budgetary plan of appropriations and disbursements. Your honorable body is enabled this year to intelligently make specific appropriations. The law creating the budget department did not become operative until late in 1913, so that it was impossible to carry out our aims in making the appropriations for the current biennium. In its statement to me the budget department says:

Budget Department Reports. "We have made surveys of every department of state receiving state aid. In addition to these financial surveys, a personal service record has been made of each and every employee in the state. These, while they may not be of material interest to you, are a guide to us in making our allowances for personal service to the various departments and provide us with a means of checking individual efficiency of the state employees. I would respectfully recommend to you that public hearings be had on all the estimates now in our hands. This, more than anything else, would bring about the ideal condition of co-operation."

I therefore urge upon the general assembly the exercise of the utmost care in voting appropriations. The budget is based upon a comprehensive inquiry into the needs of the service, and you should hesitate in exceeding it. Bear in mind at all times that the estimates of departments, generally speaking, include the element of desire and are not based entirely upon necessity. It may be urged that in making flexible specific appropriations, departments will be unable to deal with unforeseen contingencies that may arise. The answer to that is the suggestion that the powers of the emergency board be enlarged. The recent arrangement of making a fixed appropriation for the emergency board has worked so well that the old system ought never be re-established. While there were certain limitations placed upon the authority of the emergency board, there was none on the amount of money that could be disbursed; and, besides, each recurring administration was called upon to pay the bills incurred by the emergency board in the preceding year. In 1913, for illustration, there fell to the record of expense of this administration the item of over $200,000 for disbursements made the year previous—1912. Under the scheme of making a fixed appropriation for the emergency board $200,000 was allotted and of this $117,862.75 was expended, leaving a balance of $82,137.25 on hand. It will therefore be seen that the emergency board, acting during this administration, will not transfer a dollar of cost to the incoming regime. I desire also to make the most urgent recommendation that the general assembly make no more deficiency appropriations. I have urged upon all state departments that no deficiencies would be recognized. No state official in the first place, has any right under the law to incur a deficiency, and if any have developed, the responsibility should be turned back to the offending officer. Instructions from me have been so positive that I have both the hope and the belief that you will be enabled to establish the wholesome precedent against any deficiency appropriation bills.

The recurrent subject of the state erecting a building for the departments that are now renting their quarters is again presented. The records disclose that the statehouse became inadequate space in 1902, at which time the fish and game commission leased its rooms outside

STOMACH UPSET?

Get At the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach trouble.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't care for food, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested food, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

In the last two years the state board of health, which was paying $1,238.40 a year rent, was moved to the university, and that amount saved. The only additional quarters procured were for the civil service commission, the state liquor licensing board (these two branches have been established by constitutional changes), the building and loan department and the censor board, both of which are self-supporting through assessments fixed by law.

The state procures in interest on moneys in the treasury something over $400,000 a year. It would be my suggestion that this be diverted for the purpose of erecting an office building for the state, and continued until the funds are sufficient to carry out the project. In this connection, the thought should also be given to the idea of co-operating with the city of Columbus in creating a civic center. The whole state naturally has pride in the capital city, and the plans adopted would probably mean no additional financial outlay but would add to the ornate beauty of the city.

For many years there has been discussed the matter of providing a residence for the governor. In the old days the chief executive was not expected to live in Columbus, but came here only when the legislature was in session. The many responsibilities that join to the station necessitate his giving it now all of his time. In 1880 Governor Bishop, on retiring from office, called attention to what other states were doing and urged it upon our commonwealth, as a matter of plain duty.

To an Ohioan, at least, the position of governor of this state is second only in importance to the presidency of the republic. He who occupies this responsible station should live in a manner befitting the dignity of the place. This entails a considerable cost which the governor does not himself bear. Living as we are under a liberal democracy, our people frown upon pomp or display; and yet a calculated, deliberate, obtrusive and otherwise mockish simplicity is more offensive to our sensibilities than gaudy ceremonial. I have gone to the trouble of making inquiry from other states as to what they have done in this connection. I find that thirty-three commonwealths have provided homes for the chief executive. Every state of importance has done so and Ohio should no longer continue an obvious neglect of duty. On retirement from office I feel free in urging that the state make provision for my successor, either by the purchase of a suitable home or the building of one.

Flood Relief Report.

There is transmitted to the clerk of the house of representatives an accounting of all funds collected and disbursed in connection with the flood disaster in Ohio in 1913. The general assembly March 26, 1913, passed H. B. 683, appropriating money for the relief of flood sufferers; and on April 26, S. B. 287, which empowered the governor to select an Ohio flood relief commission, to be made up of five residents of the state, the duty of this organization being to aid the communities that were affected. Pursuant to this the commission was made up of the following gentlemen: Made up of the following gentlemen: John H. Patterson, Dayton; H. H. Johnson, Cleveland; J. G. Schmidlapp, Cincinnati; S. O. Richardson, Toledo; and G. W. Latimer, Columbus. On May 19 Mr. Patterson resigned and his place was taken by E. A. Deeds of Dayton.

I want to bear simple testimony in behalf of the service rendered by these patriotic citizens. The call to duty met with immediate response and their interest was sustained throughout the whole work. Communities were visited at great personal inconvenience and the work of relief was organized at the outset with such efficiency that every local committee received what in its judgment the stricken people required. It was the largest project of its kind in the history of our state, and it is with uncommon gratification that we are enabled to transmit now a report which is in fact an audit, not only of every disbursement to the money made by the commission, but by the local community treasurers as well.

Make Your Own Cough Medicine

The difference in buying one of the most efficient, latest and up-to-date cough and cold remedies (which can be made at home), and buying the old, ordinary, ready-made kind, is that with the new one you get all pure medicine, instead of buying a large proportion of sugar and water, besides paying for bottles, corks and labels; and it usually requires 2 to 3 bottles of the old-fashioned, ready-made remedies to break up a cough or cold, while 2 ounces (50c worth) of Schiffmann's new Concentrated Expectant, which is so strongly concentrated that 2 ounces, when mixed at home with simply one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of water, make a full pint (16 ounces) of excellent cough remedy, and will be sufficient to probably last the whole family the entire winter. It positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine or other narcotics, and is so pleasant that children like to take it. Arrangements have been made with drug stores named below to refund the money to any person who finds it does not give perfect satisfaction, or if it is not found the very best remedy ever used for coughs, colds, bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and hoarseness. You will be the sole judge, and under the positive guarantee by these druggists, absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy. For sale here by

Congratulations All Ohioans.

Altogether, at the beginning of a new year and a new government's regime in the state, we should all celebrate ourselves as proud citizens of a great commonwealth that our fiscal condition is healthy, beyond precedent, that industrial justice and peace have been wrought by the workmen's compensation law, which has removed the courts from the zone of distrust and re-established them in the confidence of the people, that we are dedicating our efforts in larger measure to education so that the boy and girl in remote locations back on the mud road see the manifestations of interest on the part of his and her government in their educational and material welfare, that taxes, on the average, were lower at the last tax-paying time in December than ever before. We are fortunate to have sprung from the loins of a citizenship that build up such a state, located in the choicest place of all the world's domains—a rich heritage indeed. We are not only, therefore, a proud people, but we should be a contented and happy people as well.
